Bargaining Update!

We had bargaining today.

Unfortunately, it was disappointing and frankly, insulting.

Providence brought a wage counter that failed to reflect the essential care we provide or the professionalism we bring every day.

The offer fell short of what's needed to recruit, retain, and respect our colleagues and to provide the highest quality patient care.

We won't accept less than what we deserve and what's needed to sustain a strong workforce.

Join us at tomorrow night's membership meeting for more details and to discuss next steps.

(Please note: our meeting originally scheduled for the 21st has been moved up; this demands our immediate attention.)
